Asian American Research Center on Health (ARCH)

It is with great pleasure that we announce the establishment of the Asian American Research Center on Health (ARCH). Our members include prominent researchers, community leaders, and clinicians in the San Francisco Bay Area. ARCH aims to provide an open and collaborative environment to achieve its vision, which is to be a leader in Asian American health research to promote health and health equity in partnership with Asian American communities. For more information about our members, projects, and resources, please visit www.asianarch.org.
